Skills for Life Programme

Skills for Life Programme is an activities programme designed by the Royal Air Force to help young people improve confidence, teamwork and leadership skills.

About the Skills for Life Programme

Our trained RAF staff are able to deliver a number of activities within schools or colleges for students aged 14 to 18. All of our activities are designed to improve confidence, teamwork and leadership skills but above all are designed to be fun.

Our activities are risk-assessed, inclusive, free of charge and our staff are self-sufficient in terms of set-up and delivery.

1 Operation X

An interactive, table-top classroom exercise based on a humanitarian mission. The exercise is designed for 14 – 18 year olds with differing levels of complexity. All students will have the opportunity to get involved and take part in the mission.

2 Careers Presentation

Developed to raise awareness of the opportunities within the RAF. Presentations cover the wide variety of jobs available in the RAF as well as apprenticeships, training and benefits.

3 STEM Activities

Activities and exercises that reflect the role of Science, Technology, Engineering and Maths in many RAF career choices, delivered by our trained recruiters and STEM ambassadors.

4 Personal Development Training

Practical exercises with an emphasis on developing teamwork and communication skills. These sessions are tailored to your requirements and use of a gym or sports field is required. In addition our trained interviewers are able to deliver an interview skills workshop that includes practice interviews and gives students job-seeking skills.
